

MCR accredited MSc modules 2009 - 2010

Henley Business School is the new business faculty at the University of Reading following the merger with Henley Management College. Real Estate and Planning is now an integral part of the new faculty and continues as the leading centre for real estate education and research.

CoreNet Global and the University of Reading collaborate to provide an alternative route to gaining the Master of Corporate Real Estate designation offered by CoreNet Global. The University's corporate real estate post-experience Masters programme comprises 17 modules, and application can be made to CoreNet Global for its award of Master of Corporate Real Estate (MCR) after completing three of the four-day modules (including the compulsory CRE Management Strategy & Practice module).
